Hi there,

We have been members of your website for the past couple of years and just wanted to say a huge thank you for such a valuable resource. We have been house sitting full time (just going from house to house with no home base) for two and a half years now, to save money for our wedding and to buy our own place. So we needed to have a constant stream of sits to go to and without your website that just wouldn't have been possible. So thanks again for the great site and we will certainly recommend you to anyone we can!

Now that we have stopped house sitting, how do we go about canceling our membership? Do we just let it expire, do you guys give a refund for the remaining time, etc?

Regards, Mark W [REDACTED]
