Dear Malcolm,

I house sat for 3x1 month periods while I was looking to purchase accommodation. It was interesting and helpful to live in a variety of suburbs and homes while searching for my own home as I was able to experience first hand the positive and negative aspects of the different locations, in which I was considering living permanently.

I received a steady number of enquiries through Happy Housesitters, and was always very happy with your prompt response to my emails and my requests for changes to information, etc. Because of the need to coordinate start and finish dates it was necessary to receive a reasonable volume of enquiries to select mutually suitable dates.

I found the Happy Housesitters advice and guidelines to be very helpful, and the experience of housesitting was most enjoyable and rewarding.

Thank you very much for all your assistance.

Regards, Mary [REDACTED]
