Hi Happy Housesitters,

I have been living in a house sit I gained from your website for 3 months - thank you! It allowed me to live nearby and finish renovating my own first property. It's now ready to live in and I have also started a new job which involves lots of travel in the first 6 months while I'm trained.

Because of these reasons I'd like to freeze my membership as of today, and stop advertising and receiving notifications of house sits available. I hope I can restart my membership later in the year when work settles down and if I choose to rent out or sell my apartment.

If I have a friend who wants to take over the advertising contract, can I transfer the remaining days to them?

Many thanks
